foreword

Each lively day
at North Quincy High School challenges us:
in fellowship on the campus,
in sportsmanship on the game field,
and in scholarship in the classroom.
We the challenged welcome this vigorous preparation for the future as a responsibility unburdensome and a privilege invaluable.
Our memory book of challenges and how we met them
shows our camaraderie in school life,
our exhilaration in physical fitness,
and our love of knowledge.
May the MANET 1964
prove to be a sign of the exuberance, imagination,
and creativity
with which we shall meet the challenge of tomorrow.

MANET 1964

North Quincy High School

North Quincy

Massachusetts

1926

Sharing the diversified activities and the colorful social life at North, we learn to enjoy one another and to understand ourselves better.

Responding with unlimited energy and enthusiasm to North's challenging athletic program, we find every game, win or lose,
an exciting one for both contestants and spectators.

JOHN F. KENNEDY
CLASS OF 1961

Principal, Mr. John W. Walsh.

At the end of a challenging day.

a challenge

Every human being lives in the true sense of the word in the degree to which he accepts challenge. As he gathers strength to meet it, he grows within himself. Challenge is to the spirit as the sun to the seed—vital to its growth. To withstand it even in the face of defeat is victory. Failure can merely be physical when courage is spiritual.

Intellect identifies for us that in its true nature challenge draws upon the hidden wells of strength in the reservoirs of the soul. The stimulus may be external—pride, adulation, the roar of the crowd, but the enduring response is to the quiet voice of conscience. The greatest challenge must, therefore, inevitably be spiritual, a personal matter between the individual and his soul.

John W. Walsh

dedication

We count it a privilege to dedicate this yearbook to a teacher who constantly affirms his belief in young people. In his classroom, in the midst of our social events, and upon the field of athletic victory, he challenges us to strive for our highest goals. He has earned our respect for his unbounded faith in us. For his ceaseless energy, encouragement, and confidence, we fondly dedicate the MANET 1964 to our teacher, coach, and friend—MR. CARL LEONE.

SENIOR CLASS

Just as our years at North Quincy High School had a great effect on all of us, so the graduating Class of 1964 leaves a permanent impression upon the school. It is the largest class ever to graduate from North, and its members, both collectively and individually, have made excellent contributions to the school's projects, traditions, spirit, and reputation. Responsible in great measure for making this the most wonderful year of our high school life were our four energetic and capable class officers: Walter Simmons, President; Patricia Grant, Vice-President, Elsie Menslage, Secretary; and Richard Mosca, Treasurer. Working closely with their classmates and class advisor Mr. Donahue to insure the success of our final activities at North, they gave freely of time, effort, and imagination in fulfilling their responsibility of leading our class through a memorable senior year.

TEACHERS' CAREER CLUB

Looking forward to the day when they will all have classrooms of their own, the members of the Teachers' Career Club enjoyed a stimulating program under the sponsorship of Miss Dooley. With Sheila Kelley presiding over the bi-weekly meetings, these future educators not only explored many fields of teaching but also looked into the educational departments of various colleges and universities. Through discussions, guest speakers, and college tours, the members gained invaluable knowledge concerning their chosen field and made important steps in planning and preparing for it.

Linda and Sheila offer constructive criticism to Sandy and Gerry in the use of visual aids.

NURSES' CAREER CLUB

The activities of the Nurses' Career Club are directed toward one goal: to prepare girls for nursing—a career in serving others in the community, the nation, and the world.

This aim is a high one and taken seriously by adviser, Miss Gray, R.N., the officers: president Josephine Mattina, vice-president Linda Maloney, secretary Alice Read, and treasurer Dianne McCrackin, and the club members, who have done much toward achieving it. By beginning now to understand and appreciate the career they have chosen, these future nurses make a significant start toward attaining excellence in their profession.

Linda and Josephine help Alice and Diane in the most important step to a career in nursing.

TRI-EPSILON

Tri-Epsilon officers are inflated with their March of Dimes drive.

Not only on Monday nights but on Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays as well, the girls of Tri-Epsilon have been actively involved in giving service to school, church, and community. Members have held cake sales, sold balloons, and washed cars to earn money which they donated to the YMCA Camp Fund, the "North Quincy to Mexico" group, and the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library. Moreover, they brought pleasure to many underprivileged children by holding parties for them.

Under the direction of the officers, president Roxanne Goward, vice-president Sherry Shaw, chaplain Linda Dias, secretaries Mary Hay and Susan Schurman, and treasurer Pam Hahn, Tri-Epsilon girls found the joy of giving as they offered their time, effort, and affection to the less fortunate around them.

TRI-KAPPA-PHI

Tri-Kappa-Phi officers complete a few last minute details for their dance.

The special activities of the Tri-Kappa-Phi division of Tri-Hi-Y have ranged from cake sales to a Christmas party for an orphanage. Responsible for the successful completion of many of the group's worthwhile projects are the officers, president Nancy Hatfield, vice-president Virginia Polvere, secretary Sandra LaPointe, treasurer Jean Morrill, and chaplain, Linda Perry.

Throughout the year the members endeavored to show fine examples of leadership and to uphold the motto of Tri-Hi-Y: "Pure thoughts, pure words, and pure actions."

KEY CLUB

Big Men On Campus.

Acclaimed one of the most active service groups in the school, the Key Club is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and led by Mr. Carlin, faculty advisor. Meeting before school on Wednesdays, as well as giving freely of their spare time, the members of the group accomplished many worthwhile projects. One of the most outstanding was their work for mentally retarded children. Not only did they give a Christmas party for a group of these children, but they also sponsored dances and other fund-raising activities to enable them to present the South Shore Association for Retarded Children with a check to help further research in this field.

Besides tackling this project, the members of the club made their presence felt in many small but important ways around the school. Ably led by its officers, president Robert Ricciardi, vice-president Lee Munson, secretary Kevin Murphy, and treasurer Don McNally, the Key Club is well deserving of its outstanding reputation as a service organization.

VARSITY CLUB

The Varsity Club is North Quincy High's most exclusive organization. The club, which limits its membership to lettermen from varsity sports competition, is sponsored by Mr. Laing, North's athletics director. Under Mr. Laing's guidance, the club set as immediate objectives both the improvement of the athlete's role in school functions and the securement of further recognition for the Varsity Club itself. By striving to meet these objectives, the club hopes to achieve its ultimate goal—a well rounded student life for all pupils at North Quincy High. The club thereby reaffirms North's position as a leader in the state's educational program. Leaders in the group are seniors Paul DeSchamp, Joe Zona, Ed Wojciechowski, Tom Kiley, Mickey Gillis, and Walter Simmons.

Varsity Club holds a typical executive board meeting.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Each spring, members of the Junior Class who best exemplify the qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and service are recognized by induction into the National Honor Society. Sponsored by Mrs. Black and Mr. Miceli, the Society is led by Edward Marchant, president; Irving Shachat, vice-president; Catherine Coughlin, secretary; and Andrew Davis, treasurer. As one of North's most respected organizations, the Society not only honors those students who merit distinction but also stimulates others to excel.

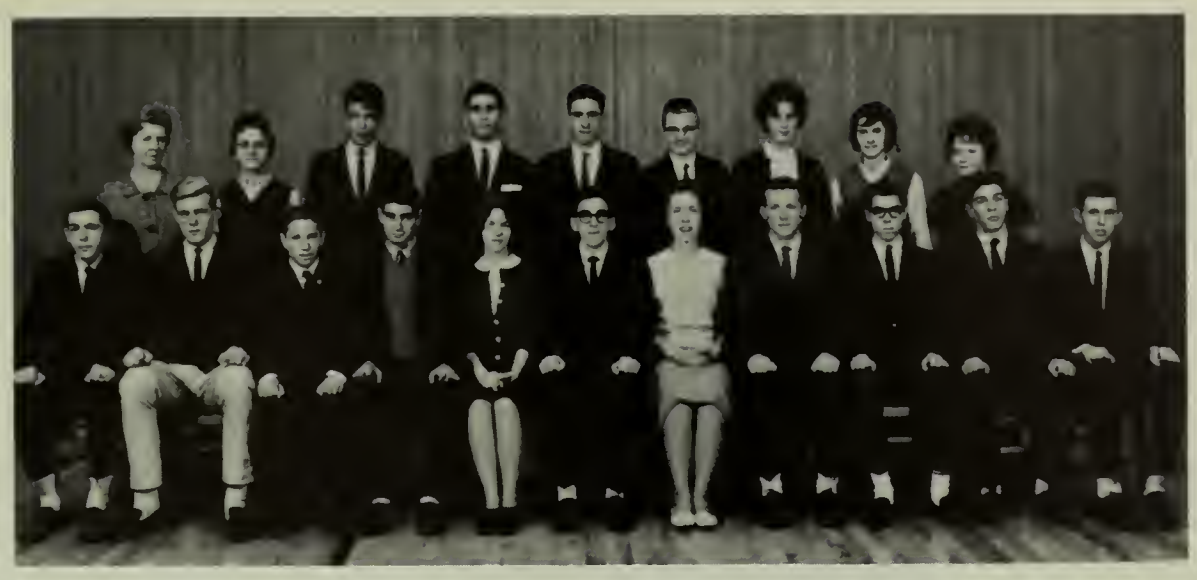
Irving, Andy, Cathy, and Eddie admire their new NHS collars.

Challenge: North Quincy to Mexico.

NATIONAL SPANISH HONOR SOCIETY

Because of its plans for a trip to Mexico during spring vacation this year, the Spanish National Honor Society was in a whirl of planning and anticipation. The undertaking demanded a coordinated effort by all members in countless projects to raise funds for the trip. The venture required president Richard Mosca, vice-president Margaret Connell, secretary Alyce Johnson, and treasurer Pamela Hahn to be busier than club officers are sometimes apt to be. Their efforts proved at least one thing: pupils who obtain scholastic honors can also be successful in social and business activities. The society is most grateful to its advisor Miss Pratt and all its other friends for their assistance in helping it to meet an unprecedented challenge.

GERMAN HONOR SOCIETY



The German Honor Society officers form factions during a discussion of German literature.

Recognition has finally come to our German language students through the formation of the German Honor Society. To qualify for membership first-year students must have averages of at least 85; second, third, and fourth-year students must have averages no lower than 80. All members must keep their quarterly grades at C or better. Under the leadership of their advisor Miss Meisner and with the help of weekly drills in the language laboratory, the group members work faithfully to attain greater proficiency in the German language and appreciation of German literature.

FRENCH HONOR SOCIETY

Membership in the exclusive French Honor Society is restricted to those students who elected either third or fourth-year French during their senior year. At the suggestion of last year's members, sponsors Mrs. Jack and Mr. Tanguay limited their selections to seniors who qualified with an eighty-five or higher average in French. In this way, the French Honor Society serves to give recognition to outstanding students in the school who help set and meet our high standards.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

From the moment they received their class rings in September to the thrilling night of their prom, the members of the junior class prepared to meet the challenge of becoming seniors. This year, looking forward to their final year of high school, the four diligent and dedicated officers —President George Fell, Vice-President Patricia Granahan, Secretary Deborah Hodges, and Treasurer Michael Greenlaw—worked with their classmates and their tireless advisor, Miss McCoy, to give the Class of 1965 an early start in becoming one of the best to graduate from N.Q.H.S. Through all the activities of their junior year, from selling North buttons to boost school spirit to conducting dances such as "Winter Wonderland," the members of the class were capably guided by their officers in becoming a happy and successful senior class.

Treasurer Mike keeps in touch with consumer reports.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council President Tom briefs his fellow officers on the latest project.

Mr. Roberts helps Tom and Ed to reach Council's noble goals.

Vitally important to our life at North were the functions of the Student Council. Meeting every other Monday morning at 7:45 in room 125, the thirty faithful council members overcame their grogginess and planned ways to be of service to the school and community. Supervised by Mr. Roberts, the Council was led by officers Tom Kiley, president; Sherry Shaw, vice-president; Maureen McCabe, secretary; and Gary MacDonald, treasurer. Under this competent leadership the members have tackled and carried through noteworthy projects.

These projects included successful dances; the sale of North banners, bookcovers, decals, pins, and charms; the issuance of identification cards to each student in the school; the Red Cross Drive; and assistance in the United Fund drive.

A new idea sponsored by the Council was the promotion of good citizenship in the school through the presentation of a citizenship award to the student in each grade who merited it, not by intelligence or popularity but by his attitudes and actions. In this project as in all its other undertakings, the Student Council proved its worth as an organization devoted to the good of the school.

GIRLS' CLUB

Mrs. Hooker and the Girls' Club officers put their heads together to develop new ideas for this year's semi-formal.

Through cooperation, imagination, and plain elbow grease, this year's Senior Girls' Club has maintained many worthy traditions and established others. Under the leadership of its advisor, Mrs. Hooker; president, Andrea Aitken; vice-president, Donna Johnson; secretary, Judi Evers; and treasurer, Ginny Smith, the Executive Board has been able to sponsor such projects as the Thanksgiving Food Drive, the Pollard School Christmas party, the annual semi-formal, "Lollypops and Roses," and a Manet Show that delighted its audience. An attitude of responsibility and a desire for perfection enabled the Girls' Club to meet and exceed the goals established in the past.

DANCE COMMITTEE

The Senior Class is proud of this year's dance committee. From the opening dance "Harvest Hop" to the May "Bermuda Hop", the committee highlighted the year with a variety of different and sparkling dances.

Turning each dance into a pleasant and profitable affair were the four class officers and the Dance Committee chairmen: Josephine Mattina, Andrea Aitken, Josie Weinfield, and Kathy Flanagan. With the cooperation of other seniors in all phases of the preparations, the committee was able to produce dances worthy of the enthusiasm of all who attended.

The Dance Committee meets in anticipation of its final class dance.

The Class Day Committee shows the sophisticated exuberance for which it is famous.

CLASS DAY COMMITTEE

Of all the senior year's social challenges perhaps the planning of Class Day was the most difficult. The five-member committee, composed of Susan Perry, Phyllis MacIsaac, Dean Soukovitch, Linda Pratt, and Jack D'Angelo, had to plan a day which was to be the last of our years at the school. We shall remember this final activity of our senior class as a day of hilarity as well as of reluctant farewell.

The committee whose responsibility it was to plan for Class Day selected a date and place, provided for transportation, and laid out the day's schedule. Through its efforts Class Day became a bright moment in the memories of the bermuda-clad, yearbook-carrying seniors who enjoy one last good time with their classmates.

PROM COMMITTEE

The Prom Committee debates on the title for the Big Affair.

Last fall, when other clubs and activities were getting underway, the eight members of the Senior Prom Committee began their job of preparing for that all-important event, the Senior Promenade. Led by co-chairmen Ed Marchant and Joanne Gunning, and aided by Mr. Donahue and the Senior Class officers, the committee planned the prom, set the date and place, chose favors, arranged for printing of the programs, sent invitations to seniors and guests, reserved dinners, and coordinated the arrangements for the approaching big night. Finally, after working together to make the prom a success and handling the inevitable last-minute preparations, on May 22 the members of the Senior Prom Committee joined their classmates in dancing the night away at the King Philip.

SPIRIT COMMITTEE

The challenge assigned to the Spirit Committee, that of keeping North's school spirit high, is twofold: to maintain our school spirit and to increase it.

During the fall, the football-soccer branch of the Spirit Committee, under the chairmanship of Linda Mercadante and Ted Stevenson, encouraged attendance and cheers for our winning football team and assisted in the prophetically successful Thanksgiving Day rally. The winter sports division, led by Shaila Regan and Donald McNally, rallied the school's support for the basketball, hockey, and winter track teams. Spirit for spring sports was sparked by Cathryn Sclafani and Jim Chaisson.

Senior Class V.P. Pat Grant coordinated the efforts of the committee. The endless hours of making and putting up posters were well rewarded in the evidence at the games that our spirit was soaring and that the Spirit Committee had indeed surpassed its challenge.

CHEERLEADERS

North's Big Twelve.

"When you're up, your're up . . . "

North's twelve cheerleaders, and if necessary the two substitutes, are always at football, basketball, soccer, and hockey games, at rallies, at practices, or at someone's house making signs, shakers, and pom-poms. Even when they're not busy, some of them study together or work to help boost North's spirit.

Under the supervision of head Jean Morrill and sponsor Miss McCoy, the girls are ready and willing to do their part for the school. It's their desire to be the best squad ever.

This year some interesting changes took place: a new sponsor, new uniforms, and new practices. To the girls' joy, Miss McCoy accepted the request to be cheerleading sponsor. She has done everything possible to make the squad a spirited one. Black wool jumpers now complete the uniform of red sweater and socks, white blouse, and moccasins. Practice times were also changed from every day outside to two or three days each week in the gym.

The cheerleaders completed their job together not only as a group but also as friends. They were the leaders of North's spirit and set new examples for the entire school.

GIRLS' SPORTS

A very conscientious American, Miss McCoy continued her fight against flabby females this year with the reorganization of Girls' Sports. The gym was open one or two afternoons each week for tumbling and other stunt work, and North's sportsminded young ladies also perked up when girls' baskeball began. As usual, basketball had a dynamic year, as demonstrated by the enthusiastic participants who played until late every Tuesday and Friday afternoon. In many different ways Girls' Sports contributes to the well-being of the individual and of the school and has become an indispensable part of North's athletic program.

The girls' basketball teams are as follows: High-balls, Directrives, S.C.D. Six, Shooting Stars, Bouncers, Stumble Bums, Couseyettes, Backboard Bouncers, Blue Angels, Granny's Greats, Teddy's Tigers, Roving Chickens, Rim Rollers, Dribble Dolls, Basketeers, Sharp Shooters, Rebounds, Chargers, and Dribblers.

Up Judi, up Judi, up, up, up!

LIBRARY STAFF

The Library Staff members each work an hour or more during the week to help North meet its academic challenge. Under the capable leadership of Miss Buckley, they keep the Library's many resources available to all and assist other students whenever requested.

Being on the staff, however, does not mean all work. Leading the energetic efforts of this year's staff were officers Marie Hedin, president; Susan Schurman, vice-president; Sarah Whittum, secretary; and Ann Moore, treasurer. The staff also held its own social events, including the traditional Mothers' Tea in May. In both their library duties and their social activities, the members of the Library Staff have performed a well-organized and efficient service for the school.

Sarah, Sue, and Marie compare new additions to the library.

RUSSIAN

Every school morning at 7:45 in room 415 twenty sleepy language students from grades ten to twelve managed to keep their eyes open in order to learn Russian. Mr. Tanguay, fully as ambitious as his early-rising disciples, led the class in a course taken from the text of Basic Russian and The Living Language Series. The course included grammar, pronunciation, and vocabulary of a first-year course in Russian.

In addition to acquiring the habits of the early bird, each student had to master an entirely new alphabet. Most of the twenty pupils took the non-credit course as background for further study in college, but all profited from the experience of studying this important foreign language. In this way our students of Russian have worked diligently to meet the challenge of communication in a shrinking world.

BOYS' BOWLING

John and Gerald show those pins no mercy.

Competition is keen as the boys of North's candlepin bowling league gather weekly at the Wollaston Boulevard Bowladrome. The thirty-two skilled bowlers, composing eight teams, battled it out in the alleys as the points mounted and excitement increased.

The team that finished in first place with 33 wins and 6 losses was headed by Ed Daly. In second place was the team captained by Ed Condon, with 24 wins and 18 losses. Awards were given at the end of the year to the boys with consistently fine bowling records. In addition to enjoying and improving their bowling, they impressed the Bowladrome by their excellent manners and good sportsmanship.

GIRLS' BOWLING

The lively group of pupils who meet every Monday at the Norfolk Downs bowling alley is known as the Girls' Bowling Club. Sponsored by Miss McCoy, the club places emphasis on recreation as well as the acquiring of skill. Under the watchful eye of officers Rita Ardini, president; Linda Youngworth, vice-president; Deborah Hodges, secretary; and Barbara Balkam, treasurer; the girls enjoy every minute of their bowling whether the scores be high or low. The highlight of the year is the annual banquet, at which awards are presented to the girls who have achieved distinction during the season in the challenges of high single, high average, most-improved bowling, and best attendance.

Mary, Bob, Huey, and Curt hold a post-game jam session.

Striving for excellence in all its presentations, the North Quincy High School Band appeared at every football game but one, participated in various parades and special events in the City of Quincy, and performed at the Christmas and Spring Concerts. The band members made their first appearance in their spanking new uniforms at the Memorial Day Parade. The band has stressed individual accomplishment under the skillful direction of Mr. Bono, and with the guidance of officers Robert Harding, president; David Hansen, vice-president; Mary Brennan, secretary; and Curtis Hartman, librarian. Achievement of its goal was demonstrated not only in the group's superlative performances but in the awarding of first and third prizes to saxophonists Bob Gore and Philip Miles, respectively, at the Boston University Solo Audition Competition.

"Oh say, can you see . . . "

DRUM MAJORETTES

"Guide right!" That's the war cry of the Raider Majorettes. During the football season they were often seen in the gym diligently practicing their routines under the direction of Miss O'Connor and squad head Linda Matheson. Their consistently fine appearances proved to North that practice and spirit lead to success. Whether in the annual Christmas parade or at a football game or rally, these majorettes in their traditional red and black uniforms exhibited their twirling skills and cheered our team in victory or in defeat. Their support and peppy appearance definitely influenced our spirit in an almost undefeated season.

Big Chief Linda.

GLEE CLUB

Enriching all the assemblies of the year, the Glee Club has offered particularly outstanding work at the Christmas, Easter, and Memorial Day programs. The group delivered another memorable presentation at its annual Spring Concert. But, the high point of its activities was its performance at the graduation ceremonies.

The ninety voices representing all four classes blended equally well in classical, modern, folk, and religious music. Perhaps the memory that will linger with us long is their rendition of the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah." The Glee Club, with its devoted director Mr. Bono, has made a great contribution by giving us enjoyment in the appreciation of and a sense of accomplishment in the performance of good music.

"Master's in the hall . . . "

CONCERT CHOIR

To master and present for the school a high level of music is the challenge accepted by the newly-formed and highly selective Concert Choir. Conducted by Mr. Bono, who also leads the Glee Club, the Concert Choir is a small specialized group which works mainly with the more difficult aspects of choral music. The members of this group work constantly and faithfully on their own time in order to present the polished perfomances which are enthusiastically received by their audiences. The entire school has enjoyed not only the choir's participation in the assemblies and the Spring Concert but also its unforgettable caroling at Christmas through the corridors of the building. With its expert direction and unlimited potential, the Concert Choir makes a cultural contribution to the life of the school.

GUIDANCE RECEPTIONISTS

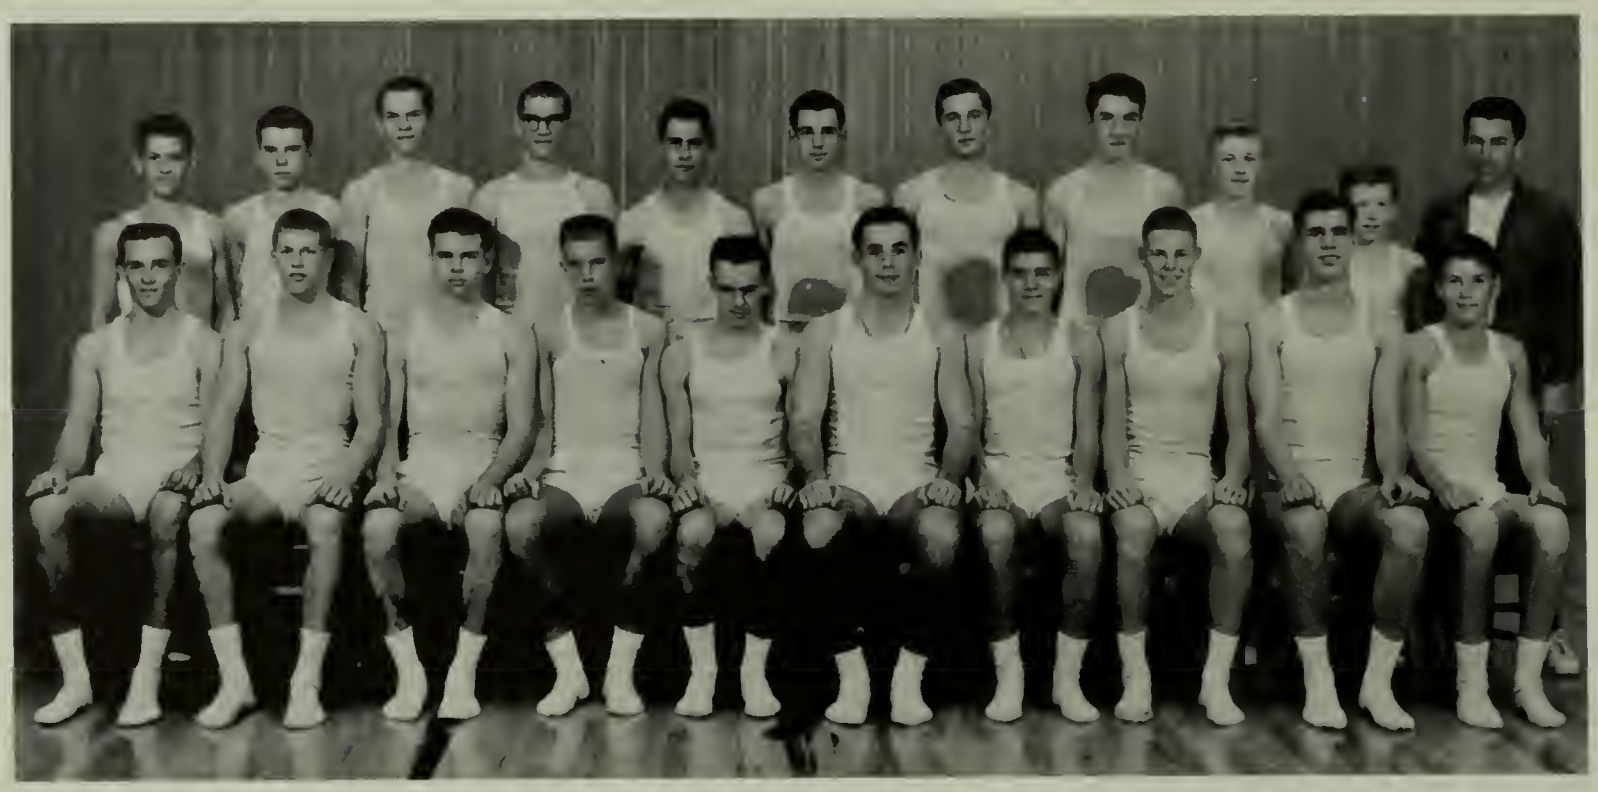
Ready to greet visiting parents or college representatives each period of the day in the guidance office are the girls who serve as guidance receptionists. In addition to welcoming and assisting guests who have come to see the counselors, these personable, well-groomed girls perform valuable clerical services for the guidance department. They may arrange interviews for counselors, type letters, record information, deliver messages, and lend assistance in any way they are needed. The girls are always a favorable representation of the student body to any and all visitors to the guidance office.

Ginny epitomizes the efficient receptionist.

RECEPTIONISTS

During each period of the school day one of the thirty-five girls who serve as school receptionists is on hand to greet visistors to the building. This group, sponsored by Mr. Roberts, generously volunteers its time at the beginning of the year and continues to serve, providing each girl maintains good grades. Greeting visitors with a welcoming smile and lending assistance whenever possible, the receptionists contributed much toward the open, friendly, and efficient atmosphere of the school.

BOYS' STUDENT LEADERS



Marty makes it look easy.

The goal of student activities, it has been said, is the promotion of pride in the school. If such is the case, then the Boys' Student Leaders is an exemplary organization. By instilling interest, a sense of achievement, and an attitude of leadership in the boys, Mr. Golding, the head of the group, hopes to create a spirit and a pride which will continue off the gym floor.

The Student Leaders, many of whom are members of the school's gymnastic team, met during the seventh period on Wednesdays. Although they work individually on the heavy apparatus, spotters were always on hand to insure safety. The leaders often filled the role of spotters in the gym classes, besides accepting responsibility for various phases of the program. The Boys' Student Leaders is an essential service organization at North.

NORTH STAR

The latest issue of the North Star is just off the press! While its exhausted editors sit back with a sigh of relief, the rest of the school eagerly devours its lively news articles and entertaining writeups. The unreserved copies are quickly sold out and many a student must resort to peering over a classmate's shoulder. For everyone enjoys North's fascinating and attractive school paper.

Co-Editors-in-Chief Don Patterson and Sheila Kelley and faculty adviser Mr. Jones-Henry, backed by a cooperative staff, worked ceaselessly to maintain the high quality of journalism and to improve it wherever possible. The striking appearance of the first issue, produced with a new type of printing, met with the approval of the whole school. Having survived a few hectic pre-deadline moments, the editors, staff, and the new adviser are justifiably proud of the finished product: Another excellent issue of the North Star.

Associate Editor Steve coordinates the subscription program.

Editor-in-Chief Charlene checks out the dead-line schedule.

MANET

This was the year of new headquarters, new adviser, new editors, and many new ideas for the Manet. All these innovations could have meant chaos were it not for the one challenge, the one goal held in sight: a Manet worthy of the Class of 1964.

Headquarters turned out to be a 4 x 5 closet in room 223 where our adviser, Mr. Murphy, deciphered codes in instruction booklets and messages from Keller Press; where Editor-in-Chief Charlene arranged picture schedules that were soon discarded; where Layout Editor Peter planned page after page of layout which Charlene then erased; where Associate Editor Steve coordinated his typing staff; where Literary Editor Meredy aimed for "depth and precision" in her activity write-ups; and where Business Manager Sue reminded us that bills are paid with money, not mental sweat. Carrying on so many activities in such a limited space did little to promote temper control but did not at all impair the final product. Aside from a few small outbreaks of "deadline panic," the staff worked as a unit, single-minded in its purpose.

It was with this feeling of a challenge squarely met that we, the Manet Staff, presented this memory book to the Class of 1964 as a permanent and artistic record of its personal goals and successes.

RIFLE CLUB

In the event of an invasion from Quincy High School, North's Rifle Club will be well prepared. President Jim Gormley, vice-president Ken Murphy, secretary Linda Ireland, treasurer Ray Gormley, and range master Rodger Day join their lively group every Monday at Atlantic Junior High in a scene of constant and devoted training. For two hours the persistent clatter of gunfire, punctuated by occasional shouts of victory, rules supreme as the dedicated marksmen, under the watchful eye of Mr. Burgess, perfect their aim and prepare to meet any onslaught. Each enthusiastic sharpshooter may display his punctured bull's-eye as proof that the Rifle Club is always "on target."

"In bills of small denominations, please."

M.P.P.C.

By willingly assisting in all of the major assemblies and programs this year, the Motion Picture Projectionist Club carried out its challenge with quiet efficiency. Seniors Charlie Barrows, Guy Brancaccio, Bill Ellis, Richard Anderson, and Sam Parker are to be praised for always being available when needed. Other active members of the group show promise of maintaining the exceptional service for which the club is noted.

The club members and their adviser, Mr. Mason, are especially proud of their three new portable equipment tables and the new auditorium public-address system. Both additions have made it possible for the club to give even better service to the school.

ART CLUB

Peter comments on the finer points of this English landscape to Cindy, Terry, and Donna.

A most industrious group in the school this year was the Art Club. Its ambitious members were always involved in challenging art projects. The entire school, for example, enjoyed the results of their colorful, festive Christmas decorations. In addition to putting their talent to work, they have enjoyed several trips to art exhibits.

Actively responsible for the success of this club have been the officers: Terry MacMurray, president; Peter Bono, vice-president; Donna Paulson, secretary; and Cynthia Crofts, treasurer. The joint sponsors, Mr. Jones-Henry and Mr. Keaveny, have helped the group not only to produce an abundance of attractive work but also to provide a source of enjoyment for many students with a flair for art.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Despite its late start, the Dramatic Club staged in March a production worthy of the great cooperative effort behind it. Working with the cast to achieve excellence in the final product were the officers: president Michael Haskins, vice-president John Conn, secretary Donna Pitt, treasurer Holly Grazioso, and corresponding secretary Sally Sly; also senior Elena Dworkin, student director; Mr. Forester, sponsor; Mr. Jones-Henry, adviser for art work and set construction; and Mr. Richard Riley, a North graduate and member of the National Thespian Society, who accepted the tremendous job of directing the play. The climax of months of work came with the presentation of Patricia Joudry's Teach Me How to Cry, a moving and absorbing drama.

GREAT BOOKS

Each Friday, after school, room 201 was the scene of much mental exertion as the Great Books group discussed or dissected a great literary classic. The purpose of these stimulating sessions was not to come to definite conclusions but rather to present many ideas of such authors as Sophocles, Plato, Shakespeare, Marx, and Swift. Although Miss Persis Johnson, the leader of the group, started the discussion each week and attempted to prevent the circle from separating over "splinter arguments," the topics brought before the group were usually those of the individual members. This procedure encouraged every participant to do his own thinking, formulate his own ideas, and draw his own conclusions. Each member, therefore, was introduced to and prepared for today's growing intellectual challenges by investigating those of the past.

Mr. Benson invites comment in a Great Books discussion.

North's debating team poses a formidable opposition.

DEBATING

This year has proved to be the most successful in the six years of debating at North. Four seniors, Michael Lutch, Steven Kalish, William Downes, and Virginia Garland, plus several extremely competent underclassmen, represented North each Tuesday at various schools in the South Shore Debate League. Debators prepared weekly under the guidance of their adviser, Mr. Miceli, in anticipation of competition in the Massachusetts Speech League and the state championships at Braintree. Having become veritable authorities on this year's topic about Medicare, teams were chosen to participate in a tournament for the state championship. North's performance in this challenge equaled its potential all the way.

SCIENCE CLUB

Helping North's students to meet the challenge of the Space Age is the Science Club, which meets every Wednesday afternoon under the sponsorship of Miss Schields. This year North is honored to be one of the twenty-five Marine Science Centers operated in connection with the Massachusetts State Department of Education for specialized study by high school students.

Besides attaining this distinction, North's Science Club has carried on its usual varied activities. The success of the Submarine Supper and Dance and the Science Fair are a witness to the efficiency of the officers: Randy Sharp, president; Frances Shachat, vice-president; Sarah Whittum and Donna Nicholson, secretaries; Paula Shay, treasurer; and Martha Blair and Fredda Hoffman, programming chairmen; and especially to the cooperation of the entire group.

The boys' mathematical reasoning stumps Cynthia.

MATH CLUB

Anyone chancing by room 423 on Tuesday afternoon was likely to be bewildered by the curious sound issuing from that room. Listening more closely, a visitor would discover that the Math Club was investigating a complicated mathematical problem. The four spirited officers are: president Robert Herring, vice-president Charles Woodbury, secretary Cynthia Lindahl, and treasurer Steven Brown. Intrigued by the many stimulating mathematical problems, the members and their adviser, Miss Horrigan, tackle the questions brought to their attention and find enjoyment in exploring the fascinating world of mathematics.

FOOTBALL

Coach Leone

North's outstanding football season resulted from the successful combination of hard work, good spirit, and luck. With just a little more luck the Raiders might have gone undefeated against all contenders. The difference between an unblemished record and our final 7-1 slate was a narrow two-point defeat at the hands of Class A champ Weymouth.

If the narrowest of margins prevented North from gaining the Class B crown, it was an equally narrow margin which helped the team to its goal of a victory over Quincy. Not until time was running out did the Raiders and junior Fran Lacy push in for the winning score. The come-from-behind win over the Presidents was the highlight of the season and a special pleasure for captains Bill Curran, Paul DeSchamp, and Walt Simmons. Under the leadership of these three and the coaching of Mr. Leone and his staff, the Raiders did achieve a successful season—a season of which the entire school is justly proud.

BASKETBALL

Coach Rickson

For the second year in a row, Coach Rickson brought his basketball team to within points of making the Tech Tourney. After showing promising strength and depth in the opening game by beating rival Quincy by ten, North went to Medford, where the Raiders lost by two points in the last ten seconds of the game. North came back strongly against Everett at home with a superior defense effort and won by a decisive nineteen points. At Malden, however, North lost another close game. After finally regaining their lead with two seconds left, the Red Raiders saw their second away-game lost near the final buzzer. Following a victory over Revere, North lost to Spellman in the third of this string of close games.

At Chelsea, however, a fired-up North team held its opponent to fewer than twenty points in the first half and went on to win easily. Then came the game of the year. Hosting ever-potent Somerville, the North boys fought aggressively all the way but seemed able only to hang on until the final period. Overcoming a five-point deficit, North had its fans on their feet for the full eight minutes, during which the Raider boys ran Somerville into the court, triumphantly outscoring them 82-61.

North then went on to beat Lowell but suffered a surprising upset at Quincy. Wins over Medford, Revere, Chelsea, and Lowell left North with 11-7 winning season climaxed by the Weymouth game. Although North missed the Tech, this year's team, led by co-captains Ted Stevenson and Tom Kiley, leaves a fine record for future teams to challenge.

HOCKEY

Coach Laing

The hockey team was always in there digging this year in the real North spirit. Since it was a building year with many sophomores and juniors on the squad, Coach Laing tried many combinations to bring about success. Led by co-captains Joe Zona, Jack O'Malley, and Paul DeSchamp and the high-scoring line of Gary DeCoste, Paul Smith, and Bob Lippens, the team played steady hockey. The team, however, suffered more than its share of heartbreakers, one of which was a last-second loss to Don Bosco.

Special praise should go to goalies Phil Doten and Paul DeSchamp both of whom came up with sparkling performances during the year. Seniors Bob Smith and Dan Connolly and juniors Todd Smith and Richie Barry made up the rest of the offensive unit and played in the true North manner. The whole team, including the boys unable to play very often, will never forget getting up at 4:30 on those cold Monday mornings. The boys deserve a great deal of credit for making many sacrifices to represent North in hockey.

TRACK

North Quincy started its year-round participation in track during the fall season with Cross Country. Coach Lyons' team had a successful 2-3 record, defeating Thayer and Cathedral but losing closely contested meets to Quincy and Weymouth. Co-captain Bill Cadger went undefeated in dual meets, breaking several course records in the process. Other members of the team were seniors Roger Frechette, Al Johnson, Marty Butler, Bruce London, and Fred Rutan; juniors Gerry Byrne, John Laverty, and Joe Mackey; and sophomores Rich Starsiak, Paul Bregoli, and Brian McClarnon.

The second phase in North's track season is Winter Track. Coach Gentry has a fine team with plenty of depth entered in this year's Met League. The team won its first three meets, led by several boys who remain undefeated in their event. Bill Cadger was again a standout on the team. He went undefeated in the 1000-yard run and broke a long-standing North Quincy High record in that event. Roger Frechette took three firsts in the mile, as did Dick McCulley in the 600, and sophomore Bruce Pinkham in the 300. Our team's depth came also from having such other members as Carl Lindholm, Paul Moore, Steve Tibbetts, Al Johnson, and Gerry Byrne.

If the success of the Winter Track Team was any indication, then Coach Gentry could also look forward to a good spring season. With their spirit and ability, the members of the Spring Track Team made their season an exciting one.

BASEBALL

Coach Phillips

After a most successful 1963 season highlighted mainly by the play of seniors, Coach Phillips this year built his team around a limited number of returning veterans. Lettermen who returned were pitchers Charlie MacDonald and Jack O-'Malley, catcher Tom Kiley, and outfielder Steve Chase. These boys were the leaders of the 1964 season. Other seniors who played a prominent part in North's first season as a member of the Greater Boston League were outfielder John Drake, infielder Mal Dougherty, and catcher Bill Walker. As a member of the Greater Boston League, North competed against the best teams in the Boston vicinity, such as Somerville, Malden, Medford, and Everett. Also included in North's 1964 efforts were several underclassmen up from Coach Stanton's junior varsity team. These boys include Tom Norton, Mike Greenlaw, Rich Giachetti, Lang Willis, Pete Varney, and Rich Wanless. Although they faced many as strangers in a bigger League, the team played good baseball and thus established North in the Greater Boston League.

TENNIS

Last spring North's Tennis Team achieved fourth place in the South Shore Tennis League, thanks to the skillful performances of Robert Gough, Carl Wilner, Richard Courtney, Steve Kalish, Alan Greene, and Oscar MacCarthy. With the return of these experienced boys and others, including Andy Davis, John Barbaro, and John McCarthy, Coach Roy Sinclair hoped to exceed last year's record.

Although tennis may appear simple, it is a fast and exhausting game. The boys combined exercise and enjoyment with support of the school's athletic program in competing against schools such as Quincy, Boston College High, Hingham, Sacred Heart of Weymouth, and Thayer.

Coach Sinclair shares new back-hand techniques with Andy, Al, and Carl.

SOCCER

Joe Perley

Despite a late start, North opened its soccer season with a 1-0 win at Duxbury for its new coach, George Golding. Stimulated by the efforts of co-captains Paul Moore, North's high-scoring forward, and Jack O'Malley, all-scholastic full-back, the Red Raiders played a spirited season. A strong backfield kept North a threat in every game.

At Sharon North's spirit and a great team effort gave the Raiders a 1-0 halftime lead over the undefeated defending champs, and although Sharon came back to win, the game was one of the highlights of the season. The near-win at Sharon sparked an easy 4-1 win over Quincy and another outstanding team effort. Winning a close and hard-fought game at Avon, North ended the season with the characteristic spirit of a Raider team.

GOLF

Coach Donahue discusses some basic points with the Golf Team.

In meeting the challenge presented by Coach Donahue, faithful team members Tom McPartlin, Steve Sager, and Dennis O'Leary have come through with an admirable record in their golf matches.

As a member of the South Shore High School Golf League, North played matches with Quincy, Hingham, Bridgewater, Weymouth, Scituate, and Cohasset. They also played non-league matches with Milton, Brockton, and Braintree. All team matches were played at the Wollaston Golf Club. The Golf team can be proud of both the manner in which it has faced its challenge and the fine record it has established.

GYM TEAM

Dean demonstrates superb muscular control.

John, Paul, Marty, Steve, and Tommy form perpendiculars to the parallel bars.

North's Gymnastic Team enjoyed its first winning season this year with a good record of six wins and three losses. Under the guidance and encouragement of Coach Golding the boys worked hard and long. The boys were prevented from competing in the State Team Championships only by a defeat in their final match with Braintree. Members of the team nevertheless participated with skill and spirit in the State Individual Championships. Captain Marty Butler again was an outstanding performer on still rings, high bars, parallel bars, and vaulting equipment. Team members offering much promise for next year are Steve Sager, Rich Del Gallo, and Paul Fawcett. The Gym Team is achieving increasing success in competing with other schools and in arousing the enthusiasm and support of North's students.

meeting the challenge

advertising

FROM THE EDITORS . . .

Stephen, Charlene, Peter, Susan, Meredith

To each one of us who has worked on the 1964 Manet, this has been a year of challenge. Facing the handicap of inexperience, the five editors and the new advisor, Mr. Murphy, undertook the production of the yearbook. Assisting us in fulfilling this responsibility were the many members of the patron, advertising, typing, and literary staffs, our good friend Mr. Farnham of Wm. J. Keller Inc., the helpful and imaginative photographers from Purdy Studio, and all who lent us assistance and words of encouragement. We ardently hope that you will be as enthusiastic about reading the 1964 Manet as we have been in producing it.

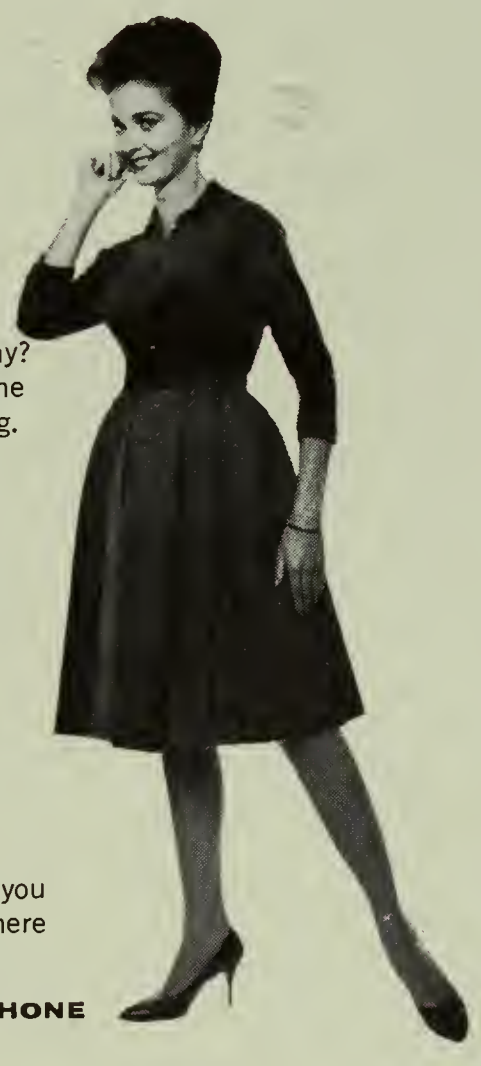
A TELEPHONE JOB OFFERS BOTH CAREER AND SOCIAL SATISFACTION



WITHOUT BREAKING STRIDE,
why not graduate from high school to the Telephone Company? You'll love the friendly young people who'll work with you, and the many social activities that make your work so pleasant and rewarding.

OPPORTUNITY IS EXCELLENT and your ability will be recognized. Your starting salary should climb with regular increases. And, of course, Company benefits, security, and regular advancement are well-known reasons why working for the Telephone Company is so attractive to graduates.

TELEPHONE JOBS ARE IMPORTANT, vital to the effective communications of the community, the nation, and the world. When you take your place as a respected member of the telephone community, we'll train you, on full salary, even without previous job experience.

Why not come and see our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.
